General Comment

I have been a supporter, client and a user of Austin Meyer's products for over 10 years and I know him to be honest and open about everything that he does. I am convinced that all of his business practices are beyond reproach of any kind.

If our business laws limit, restrict and punish model product development and corporate citizens like Austin Meyer and Laminar Research, then those laws ought to be immediately struck down in the interest of fairness, sound logic and providing a pristine example of doing what's right in America.

Continuing to punish hard work and exemplary personal and business ethics egregiously corrupts everything we've learned about doing the right thing. Mr. Meyer and his company clearly raise the bar for others every day.
