Harmonization and Enforcement of USPTO Ethical Standards in the Post-AIA Era

William R. Covey
Deputy General Counsel for Enrollment and Discipline
United States Patent and Trademark Office
35 U.S.C. § 2(b)(2)(D): “The Office may establish regulations, not inconsistent with law, which….

• (D) may govern the … conduct of agents, attorneys, or other persons representing applicants or other parties before the Office….”

Attorneys and agents are subject to discipline for not complying with USPTO regulations. 35 U.S.C. §32; see Bender v. Dudas, 490 F.3d 1361, 1368 (Fed. Cir. 2007)(Section 2(b)(2)(D) and 35 U.S.C. §32 authorize the USPTO to discipline individuals who engage in misconduct related to “service, advice, and assistance in the prosecution or prospective prosecution of applications.”).
Authority for OED to Pursue Discipline of Practitioners

Practitioners are subject to discipline for not complying with USPTO regulations, regardless of whether their conduct was related to practice before the Office:

• Patent attorney reprimanded for litigation misconduct, i.e., filing and arguing a frivolous appeal and misstating district court record. 37 CFR §§10.23(b)(4)(misrepresentation) and (b)(5)(conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice).  See In re Allen Brufsky, Proceeding No. D09-09 (May 6, 2009); see also In re Kevin Imes, Proceeding No. D09-45 (March 15, 2011)(suspended for 3 months for engaging in malicious prosecution and abuse of process).

• Patent agent excluded upon consent for misappropriation of non-profit organization’s funds and use of organization’s credit card for personal use. 37 CFR §§10.23(a) and (b)(3),(4),and(6). See In re George Reardon, Proceeding No. D2012-19 (June 4, 2012).

Types of Disciplinary Complaints

- Predicated on “probable cause” determination by Committee on Discipline (COD) after Committee convenes. 37 CFR §11.32.

Four steps precede the filing of a complaint based on a “probable cause” finding by the COD:

3. Conducting investigation after providing practitioner an opportunity to respond; and
4. Submitting complaint to COD for “probable cause” determination.
Potential Post-Investigation Outcomes

  - Issue a warning;
  - Enter into a proposed settlement agreement; or
  - Convene the COD to determine whether there is “probable cause” to file a disciplinary action against practitioner.
The Leahy-Smith America Invents Act (AIA) amended 35 U.S.C. § 32 to require disciplinary proceedings to be commenced not later than the earlier of:

- 10 years after the misconduct occurred, or
- One year from when the misconduct was made known to the USPTO, as prescribed in the regulations governing disciplinary proceedings.

“Grievance” means a written submission, regardless of the source, received by the OED Director that presents possible grounds for discipline of a specified practitioner. 37 CFR §11.1.
