To Whom It May Concern,

I am a student studying computer science at the University of Michigan. I urge you to stop issuing software patents. They result in a stifling of the marketplace and a severe limiting of creativity. I encourage you to take a stand against the eternal expansion of intellectual property laws.

-Zev Youra