General Comment

Sirs;

You MUST provide some form of recourse, some deterrent to this blatant patent fraud/scam being perpetrated time & time again on legitimate business men and lawful patent owners. this is a form of legalized extortion!

There must be some way, some process where accused patent infringement can be easily & economically identified to be valid or not. Hopefully it would be correct & just if there were some form of punishment/deterrent for such blatantly fraudulent claims.

I have no connection with this patent situation other than being a concerned citizen.

Please do not let this patent abuse continue. Good and legal citizens are being greatly harmed, sometime even ruined by this abuse.
