General Comment

large corporations should not be allowed to use the PTAB as a weapon to increase cost and delay justice for independent inventors and small businesses! The PTAB should not allow multiple attacks against the same patent! And the PTAB should not have the ability to undermine the regular courts and trial by jury with duplicative proceedings and conflicting outcomes! I have to question why there is even a PTAB established! Once a patent has endured the long process of validation, which usually takes about 2 years as mine did, there should be no way to invalidate! Seems the patent office double dips by allowing their own to invalidate!
