General Comment

Regulations should account for the proportionally greater harm to independent inventors and small businesses posed by institution of an AIA trial, to the extent it harms the economy and integrity of the patent system, including their financial resources and access to effective legal representation.

If the petitioner challenging the patent fails to win they should be responsible for all legal and administrative costs incurred by the patent holder in defending their patent.