Conflicts of Interest

- Represented co-inventors who later disputed inventorship.

  - Mitigating factors included clean 50-year disciplinary history.
- Rule highlights:

Deceit/Conduct Prejudicial to the Administration of Justice

On the attempt to avoid ethical complaint via payment:

Respondent additionally violated his duty to the public, the legal system, and the legal profession by prejudicing the administration of justice through his efforts to conceal his client's grievances through quid pro quo arrangements. As noted above, his actions to avoid full restitution and to hide his malfeasance are contrary to the public's interest in promoting transparency regarding an attorney's professionalism; undermine the legal profession's ability to self-police its membership; and, frustrate the administration of justice by preventing the proper adjudication of ethical complaints.

  (b) Fail to disclose a fact necessary to correct a misapprehension known by the person to have arisen in the matter, fail to cooperate with the Office of Enrollment and Discipline in an investigation of any matter before it, or knowingly fail to respond to a lawful demand or request for information from an admissions or disciplinary authority, except that the provisions of this section do not require disclosure of information otherwise protected by §11.106.
Duty of Candor

- Patent attorney filed Rule 131 declaration re: reduction to practice with USPTO.
- Soon after, attorney learned that the inventor did not review the declaration and that declaration contained inaccurate information.
- Respondent did not advise the Office in writing of the inaccurate information and did not fully correct the record in writing.
  - 1st requirement is to expressly advise PTO of existence of misrepresentation, stating specifically where it resides.
  - 2nd requirement is that PTO be advised of misrepresented facts, making it clear that further examination may be required if PTO action may be based on the misrepresentation.
  - It does not suffice to merely supply the Office with accurate facts without calling attention to the misrepresentation.
- 4 year suspension (eligible for reinstatement after 2 years).
