

Federal Engineering Hiring Fair

SAN FRANCISCO

The Partnership for Public Service, in partnership with the San Francisco Federal Executive Board, is hosting a hiring fair to promote public service engineering careers in California.

This event will bring together federal agencies and universities to connect students and recent graduates to professional opportunities in the federal government. This program will include opportunities for students and recent graduates to learn about current federal job openings and internship opportunities, meet agency human resource representatives and receive one-on-one career counseling. Both during and leading up to the event, the Partnership will provide free public service career panels, resume and application workshops, and other programming to educate and prepare attendees to succeed in their federal job search.

OBJECTIVES

Through this initiative:

- Students and new professionals will have a unique opportunity to gain firsthand knowledge about federal careers and accelerate their public service job search.
- University partners will build deeper connections with the public sector and other universities to create stronger pipelines for their students into government careers.
- Federal agencies will gain better access to entry-level and intern talent to meet public sector hiring needs in California.

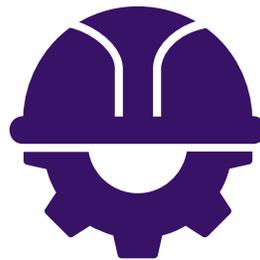

ABOUT THE PARTNERSHIP FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

The Partnership for Public Service is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization that strives for a more effective federal government for the American people. We serve as a bridge between administrations, across the political aisle and from government to the private sector, bringing together diverse perspectives to develop forward-thinking solutions. Since our founding in 2001, the Partnership has delivered programs to improve management systems, develop leaders, increase employee engagement and help recruit top talent into federal service.
