

Miriam DeChant

Arts + Business Council of Greater Philadelphia

Miriam DeChant is the Director of Legal Services at the Arts + Business Council of Greater Philadelphia, an affiliate of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce with a mission to strengthen the creative sector by engaging the business, legal and technology communities. Through the Philadelphia Volunteer Lawyer for the Arts program (PVLA), Miriam continues a 37-year-old tradition of providing access to civil legal services and education to the region's artists and cultural organizations. She has lectured in ethics, intellectual property, compliance and tax law as an adjunct professor at Drexel University's Masters in Arts Administration program as well as in workshops and CLE programs. Miriam manages the new Pennsylvania Patent Pro Bono program, in partnership with the USPTO.

Miriam earned her JD from Villanova University School of Law where she served on the Environmental Law Journal, and earned her BS in Applied Human Sciences from Colorado State University. She is admitted to practice law in Pennsylvania and serves on the Intellectual Property and Delivery of Legal Services Committees of the Philadelphia Bar Association, publishing in The Legal Intelligencer regularly on topics of public interest.