

Nelson C. Yang

Nelson Yang is currently Acting Director of International Patent Business Solutions (IPBS) in the Office of International Patent Cooperation at the United States Patent and Trademark Office. At the USPTO, Mr. Yang has been involved in many key initiatives, including the Global Dossier, the Global Patent Search Network (GPSN), the Hague Agreement, and Patents End to End (PE2E).

Prior to his Acting Director role at IPBS, Mr. Yang worked as a patent business analyst and as a biotechnology patent examiner at the USPTO. Mr. Yang graduated from Johns Hopkins University with Bachelors of Science degrees in Biomedical Engineering and Computer Engineering, and a Master of Science degree in Biomedical Engineering.

Jocelyn D. Ram

Jocelyn Ram is currently on detail as a Patent Business Analyst in the Office of International Patent Cooperation (OIPC) at the USPTO and is part of the Global Dossier Development team.

Ms. Ram is a primary patent examiner in the field of surgery and medical technology, with over 10 years of examining experience. Prior to joining the USPTO, Ms. Ram was a practicing patent attorney with Kenyon & Kenyon LLP. She holds a Biomedical Engineering Bachelor of Science degree from Cornell University, a Master's degree in Communication, Culture & Technology from Georgetown University, and a J.D. from Boston University School of Law. Ms. Ram is a member of the California and District of Columbia State Bars.