Join us in celebrating the grand opening of the Silicon Valley United State Patent & Trademark Office (USPTO), the only office on the West Coast.

During the reception attendees will hear from Former San Jose Mayor Chuck Reed and John Cabeca, Regional Director of the Silicon Valley USPTO. John will give insight on how to use the USPTO to help protect your innovations and grow your business assets.

John Cabeca

The Silicon Valley, known as one of the most prodigious and innovative entrepreneurial communities in the county, will serve as the West Coast presence to assist the USPTO in fostering and protecting innovation. USPTO services will be readily accessible to all applicants and the office will serve as a hub of education and outreach to the Silicon Valley area.
