

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE:

Intellectual Property Policy Considerations

Application to Exhibit

The Office of Policy and International Affairs (OPIA) at the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) will host the Artificial Intelligence: Intellectual Property Policy Considerations conference at USPTO headquarters in Alexandria, VA, on Wednesday, December 5, 2018. The one-day program will feature invited thought leaders from academia, industry, and government along with a mix of displays on applications of artificial intelligence technologies to intellectual property.

Any interested party that wants to showcase applications of artificial intelligence technologies to IP may apply to exhibit at the conference. Space is limited, so apply now. Those interested in exhibiting should apply by Friday, November 2, 2018.

The exhibitors will be provided with a 10 x 10 space with one 6'x24" table and two chairs. We recommend a table top presentation to allow for easier interactions with the participants. Wi-Fi will be available throughout the space. If you require a strong bandwidth connection we suggest providing your own hotspot. Please let us know if you require power or any other special requirements.

Limited funding is available to assist nonprofit entities with their travel expenses for this conference. Funding is not available for government or for-profit companies.

Those selected to exhibit will be notified by Friday, November 9, 2018.
