This is Diane N Hemmert, an inventor and member of the Nevada Inventors Association, Reno, NV.
Our group is also part of the IGA (Inventor Groups of America) which supports stronger patent rights.
I am a new patent holder and worried about our future.
I support changes by the USPTO to claim construction standards for interpreting claims in trial proceedings before the patent trial and appeal board.
I believe in implementing a fair and balanced patent system which will lend to better predictability and certainty.
This will help patent holders trying to secure funding from investors.
The investor must know that there is a predictable outcome.
Inventors help to build this wonderful country.
Infringers have been seeking broad construction for purposes of arguing non-infringement. That is not fair to us small inventors.
Please help every patent holder in the USA by implementing a fair and balanced approach, while providing greater predictability and certainty in the patent system.
Thank you for your time and wise choices.
