

Untitled

From: [e-mail address redacted] David Jones
Sent: Wednesday, December 14, 2011 6:28 PM
To: SatelliteOffices
Subject: Silicon Valley Office

If there's one place in the entire country that should have - and needs - a satellite patent office, it's the San Francisco Bay Area. One located conveniently and specifically for the businesses and universities that generate tens of thousands of patents, annually: Silicon Valley. There are other worthy sites, I'm sure, but not one should take precedence over Silicon Valley.

--

David M. Jones
Executive Director
Ragazzi Boys Chorus
[phone redacted]
20 N. San Mateo Drive, Ste. #9
San Mateo, CA 94401