

From: Armstrong, Kyle
Sent: Wednesday, December 07, 2011 7:46 PM
To: SatelliteOffices
Subject: Potential Office Locations

Hello,

I would like to make a suggestion for potential satellite office locations from the perspective of a Gen. Y Examiner. In addition to the pending Detroit office I would strongly encourage looking into the establishing offices in both Seattle, WA and Austin, TX for the following reasons:

- These are cities folks my age would actually move to (let's face it, we'd constitute the highest percentage of people relocating)
- This would geographically give the USPTO influence in each quadrant of the lower 48
- Seattle has strong ties to the economies of China, Japan and SE Asia
- Austin has strong ties to the of the US oil & gas industry and blue collar America

Good Luck,

Kyle Armstrong, P. E.