Subject: Harmonization of Patent Laws

Dear Sir:

It would be a dire mistake to change our patent laws to harmonize with those of other countries. Now, the United States is the envy of the world because we are so creative and inventive. Independent inventors account for much of the creativity. Changing our laws to agree with theirs would be devastating to the independent inventor community.

The U.S. is admired the world over, let them change their laws to agree with ours! We are the success!

It is hard enough for independent inventors as it is, please do not make these proposed changes!

Sincerely,

Mary Russell Sarao
Independent Inventor
