A47D 1/008

{with trays (combinations of chairs and tables A47B 83/02; children's chairs combined with tables A47D 3/00)}

Definition statement

This place covers:

Subject matter including a chair and an attached tray. The tray is an element having a horizontal surface (at least in an operative or use position) configured to support articles on top of it. In general, the tray is relatively small (a table encircling a chair is not considered a tray; see the references below) so that the supporting structure of the chair and tray is not substantially larger than required to support a chair alone. The tray is attached to only a single chair.

A47D 1/0081

{adjustable}

Definition statement

This place covers:

Subject matter in which the tray can be moved between and fixed in a plurality of use positions relative to the chair seat without the use of tools.

A47D 1/0083

{movable to inoperative position}

Definition statement

This place covers:

Subject matter in which the tray is movable to a position in which it is not usable (e.g., due to its normally horizontal surface lying in a vertical plane) while remaining attached to the chair.

A47D 1/0085

{removable}

Definition statement

This place covers:

Subject matter in which the tray is constructed so as to allow separation of the tray from the chair without destroying either one.

A47D 1/02Foldable chairs {(foldable rocking-chairs A47D 13/10)}Definition statementThis place covers:*

Subject matter in which the chair is configured so as to allow collapse (e.g., for storage) of the chair into a form that occupies less volume than its normal use form by relative pivotal movement of parts of the chair while the parts remain attached to each other.
