MARK INFORMATION
Standard Character Claim No Mark Drawing Type 2 - AN ILLUSTRATION DRAWING WITHOUT ANY WORDS( )/ LETTER(S) Description of the Mark The mark consists of three-dimensional trade dress depicting an interior design of a chapel with extensive use of glass in the walls and with distinctive designs made of wood or steel among the glass in the walls. The interior includes arched gabled trusses and supports, represented by diagonal lining, with glass walls filling the spaces between the gables and supports. The diagonal lining is used to indicate the gabled trusses and supports and are not claimed as a feature of the mark. The glass areas are represented as open white spaces. The glass walls between the supports are divided by narrow, Y-shaped mullions that create four sections: two trapezoidal shapes on either side of the center body section of the Y-shaped mullion, one section at the top that fills the triangular area created by the arms of the Y-shaped mullion, and one long, vertical rectangular section in between the two vertical, parallel center components making up the body of the Y-shaped mullion. The ceiling includes triangular patterns among glass panels in the ceiling. Acoustical panels represented in gray shading, pattern parts of the ceiling. The glass walls rise from lower walls. The back wall of the building consists primarily of glass and contains a large, circular section of glass with a frame creating a circle design, surrounded by beveled beams in the shapes of two vertical lines angled inward connected on top by a triangular arch above the circle design. Below the circle design are criss-crossing linear designs that form a diamond below the circle, with lines extending at an upward angle from below the circle to the surrounding beams. The floor design utilizes two criss-crossing designs. The stones on the floor and walls are represented in dotted lining and are not claimed as a feature of the mark.
