GOODS AND SERVICES INFORMATION

For computer programs that automate the process of reporting feature request, and defects and bugs over a world wide network of computers, and over the networks, to a database which logs and tracks the feature requests and which logs and tracks defects and bugs, wherein such programs send customizable data and executable code as a binary file which automatically is entered into an existing database, such programs are customizable so as to use the user's or customer's product names and user's or customer's defect and bug reporting terminology, allow file attachments to be sent with defect and bug reports, and capture the user's or customer's computer information for ease in tracking configuration-specific issues

<td>The mark consists of the word &quot;NEXGEN&quot; in black block letters, except for the &quot;X&quot; which is slightly larger and is colored red and there is a black border on the right and bottom sides of the X which gives a three-dimensional appearance to the &quot;X&quot;. There is a white line that crosses horizontally through the upper-center of the &quot;X&quot;. The &quot;X&quot; is placed on a white round platform. The front and sides of the lower edge of the platform is colored black. Under the &quot;EN&quot; of &quot;NEXGEN&quot; is the phrase &quot;BY MEDECO&quot; in black block letters. The colors red and white are claimed. A color print of the mark and design are attached for your reference.</td>
