Mark Literals:

The mark consists of an outer dash lined full circle with an inner solid line circle that is intersected at six different points by a solid hexagram contained within the circle. The points of intersection between the hexagram and the solid line inner circle are emphasized by small circles or dots where the points of the hexagon and the solid line inner circle intersect. The hexagram contains a solid lined five sided polygon that is kite or diamond shape with the most acute angle pointing downwards. The points at which the five sided polygon intersects the outer hexagram are emphasized by small circles or dots. Between the other solid lined circle and the five shaped polygon are 6 evenly spaced solid lined arcs that overlap each other. The tops of each arc intersect the outline circle and have a small circle or dot at the point of intersection. Within the five sided polygon is another proportionally smaller solid lined five sided polygon which contains another proportionally smaller five sided polygon; the two small five sided polygons have connected vertices creating a frame around the smallest five sided polygon of five trapezoids. Color is not claimed as a feature of the mark.
